

The experience of the Interinstitutional Working Group of Evaluation in Latin America

Miguel Angel Lombardo Project Administrator

European Union Project on South South Cooperation for the Evaluation of Public Policies in Latin America

Managed by the International Iberoamerican Foundation for Public Policies and Administration – FIIAPP-

Background

European Regional Programme promoted activities in result oriented budgeting and planning

Five Public institutions (Ministries of the Presidency and Ministries of Finances) Costa Rica, Ecuador Peru, Paraguay and Uruguay (+ Colombia)

Different capacites and interests: planning, Monitoring Budget implementation, evaluation...

Regional Workshop in Cartagena de Indias, Colombia 2013

Although problems are different there are common approaches to deal with them

Stable and strong democracies: Costa Rica, Uruguay, Colombia. Ecuador, Paraguay and Peru Bounded to international agreements: climate change (Paris 2015), Beijing Platform for Action, Paris Declaration on Aid Effectiveness...

Regional approaches to deal with security issues:

Drugs, organized crime...

A common cultural/language background: even with Brazilians...

Launch Regional Workshop, Montevideo March 2017

We may have different Agendas but we do have similar challenges in terms of Evaluation

Who set up the priorities?

Where are the capacities? Ministry lines or Planning / Finances?

Budgetary and methodological constraints

Towards a Regional Agenda of Evaluation, Workshop San José de Costa Rica, July 2017

From developing national capacities to promote joint evaluations (JE)

Accountability, knowledge? What do we look for?
JE Members participate in the TOR ellaboration Products are reviewed and approved in joint commitees
Methodologies use comparation or study cases
Financial and technical support is diversified

Presenting this new approach in Madrid,
Latin American Congress of Public Administration CLAD
November 2017

some lessons that we learned

From public officers to public officers pear to pear learning

To have a national agenda of evaluation is more Strategic than to have many evaluations

Just to consolidate a small percentage of this national Agenda in a peer to peer learning basis would be a huge outcome

The International Cooperation, as facilitators, have to be in a continous process of reinventing ourselves the focus being on the countries National Agendas

Thank you very much!
